INOVERIS, LLC EXPANDS SALES PROCUREMENT SERVICES TO PROVIDE COMPLETE END-TO-END DISTRIBUTION MODEL

Initiates New Services with Kyocera Wireless Corp.

DUBLIN, OHIO, Aug X, 2006 – Inoveris, LLC, a global supply chain management leader, today announced that it has expanded its procurement services to improve its customers' speed to market and asset utilization. With this increased capability, the company now offers complete end-to-end solutions which will give its customers a competitive edge in the market.

Inoveris launched its new procurement services with long-time partner, Kyocera Wireless Corp., a leading provider of wireless devices and accessories. Inoveris originally distributed Kyocera's mobile phone CD's, however with this added service, the company now procures components and assembles Kyocera products. In addition, the company now warehouses, fulfills, and distributes Kyocera's phones and accessories.

"Inoveris was able to seamlessly transition inventory, receive orders, and ship product in a record six weeks," stated Jim Kelly, Chief Operating Officer for Kyocera. "Kyocera has relied on Inoveris for several years as a CD supplier. Their superior level of service and commitment to quality was proven once again with this smooth transition to a full end-to-end supply chain solutions provider."

"Our integrated systems, open architectures, and technical expertise provide a strong infrastructure for information exchange," said Shaun Sinden, VP of Sales and Marketing for Inoveris. "This expansion with Kyocera is an added brick to our foundation and we're pleased that they chose Inoveris to provide this vital function."

In February, Inoveris was awarded The Outstanding Customer Service award at Kyocera's Annual Accessory Vendor Conference at the Boulder Marriott in Boulder, CO.
